

Imagine a college campus, small and friendly — so students aren't lost in the crowd — yet offering the opportunities and quality of a major university. For more than 50 years, Kent State University Stark Campus has provided access to a world-renowned university in a personal and affordable setting. Today's Kent State Stark has matured into a campus where students select to begin — and sometimes finish — their baccalaureate degrees in the arts, sciences and business to prepare for professional careers.

Imagine a learning center for all community members. In addition to over 3000 students working on one of Kent State's 134 degree programs, community members participate in and enjoy more than 50 events provided in the cultural arts each year. In addition, over 4000 professionals attend certificate programs and seminars to improve their performance on the job and increase their credentials. The world-class Professional Education and Conference Center offers even more to the residents of Northeast Ohio.

Imagine the leadership a campus like this provides to the community and to the field of higher education. Kent State Stark offers students of all ages and interests quality services and programs for continued success.

"Where the student comes first!"

Wayne College, in Orrville, is the only regional campus of The University of Akron. Located in the midst of 157 acres of beautiful countryside, Wayne is a modern, easy access facility surrounded by walking trails, an aquatic area and athletic facilities.

Wayne College offers many of the advantages of a major metropolitan university in a comfortable rural setting. It provides students a wide variety of educational options, including day, evening, and weekend classes.

Wayne College continues to enhance its facilities to meet the needs of the students and the surrounding community. The College is currently constructing the Paul and Lorraine Smucker Learning Center, which will add 12,000 square feet of space to the facility for classrooms, computer labs, and learning support services.

Wright State University Lake Campus

Located along scenic Grand Lake St. Marys in the northwestern corner of Ohio's agricultural and manufacturing communities, the Lake Campus offers a variety of programs from the certificate, to the associate, baccalaureate, and master degrees. As a separate college within Wright State University, the Lake Campus prides itself on its faculty and administration, academic programs and resources, and its ability to meet the ever-changing demands made upon both students and institutions in a global economy. Whatever the course of instruction or training, whether through distance learning or at off-site locations, the student is at the center of both the faculty and the administration's efforts to offer quality education which maintains standards and prepares both traditional and nontraditional students to be active learners and to achieve success in and out of the classroom. The Lake Campus supports these aims through the quality of its faculty, staff, and through its Academic Instructional Services, a place where students at all levels may learn at their own pace or receive tutoring and instruction which supplements classroom instruction. With grants and scholarships totaling more than $170,000 for the 2000-2001 academic year, many residents will find the Lake Campus the means to fully explore their potential to its fullest.
